

F.O.H THEATRE WORKSHOP

20th March 2020

A workshop to provide advice and training for Front of House staff, of live performance, on how to be more inclusive and accommodating to as many people as possible.

11:30am

Milton Court
1 Milton Street
London
EC2Y 9BH

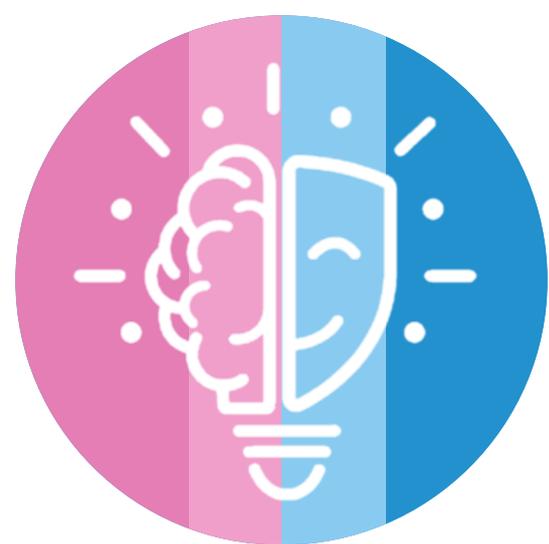

ACT RIGHT
thoughtful theatre

The industry is ready for change and so is our audience.

Act Right:
thoughtful theatre

May Curtiss

ACT RIGHT

thoughtful theatre

The workshop will include advice and education on how to accommodate the following minority groups:

- People with ASD (Autistic Spectrum Disorder)
- Deaf, deafened and hard of hearing patrons
- Blind or partially sighted patrons
- People with Anxiety Disorder
- People with early stage Alzheimers and Dementia

The workshop is run by myself and guests, who have disabilities, and together we can show you why making theatre more inclusive is so important.

You can expect information and demonstrations on; BSL phrases, etiquette on how to guide and address those with hearing or sight impairments, mental health first aid advice for someone having a panic attack, tips of how to accommodate someone on the autistic spectrum and much more.

Please RSVP to the details below

Any questions please contact May Curtiss

may.curtiss@stu.gsmd.ac.uk