10. Aims of the Programme

The MPerf/MComp Programme is designed to educate musicians with exceptional skills, dedication and drive to professional standards, excelling in their specialties with individuality and confidence; equip them with processes to sustain independently their future artistic and professional trajectory, and be aware of their musical practices and role within society.

The Programme aims to:

- Develop to professional standards each student's abilities in Principal Study, with comprehensive technical expertise and systematic practical musical insight.
- Develop to professional standards each student's acquisition and communication of an original artistic voice in Principal Study.
- Embed in each student a capacity to develop a secure artistic and professional identity through independent self-awareness.
- Nurture the ability to articulate complex musical processes, experiences, identity and an appreciation of wider artistic thoughts and practices through a process of critical self-reflection.
- Offer students the possibility to acquire specialist or additional knowledge and skills in at least one area from those offered by the School and according to their own interests and ambitions.
- Develop each student's independent personal and artistic trajectory through the integration of the physical, emotional and intellectual aspects of music making.
- Stimulate students to expand their own intellectual, emotional and physical resources for a life of artistic and professional fulfilment.
- Educate the students for the professional environment, and provide them resources to engage with it.
- Provide the students with a learning environment that stimulates awareness and individual growth as artists in society, and the resources to reflect on, and contribute to the wider musical world.
- Integrate the curriculum within a wider experiential environment that encourages students to extend critically their perspectives and ambitions.

The Programme supports students' future career development / further study by:

- Curriculum and training that match professional requirements.
- Providing opportunities and contacts with the professional world via (i) teachers drawn from the music profession, (ii) final recitals/portfolios assessed by leading artists, (iii) projects directed by external conductors and international visiting artists, and (iv) use of professional standard venues and equipment.

- Integration, within the Programme, of considerable opportunities for experiential learning and professional exposure, in collaboration with high profile artists and artistic organisations.
- Developing a broad range of musical and reflective skills that promote further independent learning.

11. Criteria for admission to the Programme

A student is admitted in one of the following two pathways: Performance or Composition.

In the Performance Pathway, the principal studies are:

- Strings (Violin, Viola, Cello, Double Bass, Guitar and Harp)
- Wind, Brass and Percussion (Flute, Oboe, Clarinet, Bassoon, French Horn, Trumpet, Trombone, Bass Trombone, Tuba, Saxophone, Recorder, Timpani and Percussion)
- Piano
- Piano Accompaniment
- Voice
- Opera Studies (Voice, Repetiteur)
- Jazz (Saxophone, Flute, Clarinet, Trumpet, Trombone, Tuba, Violin, Piano, Guitar, Jazz Bass, Drums/Percussion, Voice or other instruments by negotiation)
- Historical Performance (Keyboards and plucked continuo)
- Orchestral Artistry (for Strings and WBP) in association with the London Symphony Orchestra

In the Composition Pathway, the principal studies are:

- Composition
- Electronic & Produced Music (Electronic Music, Film Music, Sonic Arts, Game Audio, Live Electronics, Popular Music Production, New Media)

11.1 Selection Process

Selection to the programme is based on the following process:

- Principal Study audition for the Performance Pathway (for the Orchestral Artistry specialism members of the LSO may be present at audition); submission and evaluation of compositions and colloquium for Composition; submission and evaluation of an electronic music portfolio, response to a creative exercise and colloquium for Electronic & Produced Music. The audition may consist of more than one round (e.g. for Opera Studies)

Followed by

- A brief interview with a senior member of staff / auditioning panel

In some circumstances (e.g. overseas applicants who are unable to attend the international auditions when offered), this process may be carried out by submission of a video recording of a live performance, submission of compositions, portfolio of activities and other relevant material, and a video call interview (e.g. via Zoom) arranged by the School.

11.2 Standard Requirements

At the entry audition/colloquium, candidates are assessed on their potential to achieve the minimum standard of Master's level in PS, according to the audition report evaluation criteria for the relevant pathway. As entry is highly competitive within each pathway, and numbers limited, in practice candidates would normally need to demonstrate a higher grading than the minimum.

Students that do not meet the entry criteria in relation to level of Principal Study, but show significant potential are re-directed to the Extended MPerf/MComp Programme, the first year of which is the Graduate Certificate year that is aimed at a focused and intense development in Principal Study.

The minimum academic qualification for entry is an Undergraduate degree with Honours, or an international equivalent.

11.3 English Language requirements

Non-native English speakers must successfully meet the Secure English Language Test (SELT) requirements in one of the accepted tests listed on our website. The minimum requirement for entry is CEFR B2 or above in all four components (reading, writing, listening and speaking) and passing scores for all components must be achieved in a single test sitting; we are not able to combine scores from multiple tests. Please refer to our website for detailed score requirements for each accepted test type.

In specific and exceptional circumstances (assessed on a case-by-case basis), this requirement may be replaced by an internal assessment of English in reading, writing, listening and speaking. Such instances are usually identified at the point of offer by our admissions team after careful consideration of a candidate's domicile(s), educational history, previous language experience, previous test results, and any other relevant contributing factors. Any recommendation for internal assessment must be formally approved by the Registry and Academic Studies departments.

The school reserves the right to require non-native English-speaking students to attend an internal non-credited class in the English language once the academic year has started.

11.4 Non-standard entry

The school evaluates individually all cases of non-standard applicants. For these students, the selection process is equivalent to standard applicants and is detailed below:

Non-standard applicants

Students who do not have the standard academic qualifications are required to satisfy the school that, by 15th July prior to the start of the academic year (or other specified earlier date), they are able, in terms of general musical knowledge and academic abilities, to undertake a Master's programme of study in music performance, composition or EPM. Evidence, set out by the school and provided by the student, might consist of, but is not limited to:

- Submission of academic written work
- Submission of evidence of artistic and professional musical experience

All non-standard entry candidates are reviewed by the Music Programme Board and by the Academic Board.

Direct entry to Year 2

Direct entry to Year 2 is not permitted.

11.5 Age of entry

For applicants who have not attained the age of eighteen years by the day of enrolment, a special support scheme that includes especially selected additional personal tutors (DBS checked), is required. Any special scheme of study requires the approval of the Academic Board.

11.6 Students with disabilities

For applicants declaring a disability on their application form, the Registry, Student Services and the Music Office ensure that reasonable adjustments to the admissions process are made.

11.7 Equal opportunities

The Guildhall School of Music & Drama is a department of the City of London which has a comprehensive equal opportunities policy to which the school is fully committed. Its aim is to ensure that everyone receives fair treatment regardless of gender, sexual orientation, race, nationality, ethnic origins, religious beliefs and non-beliefs, colour, disability, marital status, pregnancy and maternity, age, trade union affiliations or political beliefs. The school is committed to fostering an environment for students and staff free from discrimination, prejudice or harassment and to pursuing equality of opportunity in the delivery of its services and facilities.

12. Programme learning outcomes

The programme provides opportunities for students to develop and demonstrate the following L7 learning outcomes. L6 LOs are also included below as some modules might be taken at L6 (GC PS, and some electives). ## 13. Programme Structure

13.1 Programme Duration (years)

MPerf/MComp: two years*

Extended MPerf/MComp: three years

13.2 Mode of Delivery (full/part-time/other)

Grad Cert and the Final Year are only available FT

Year 1 is available FT or 2-year PT (for Opera vocal students, Year 1 is two FT years only)

13.3 Total student learning hours

MPerf/MComp 3200

Extended MPerf/MComp 4300

13.4 % Split teaching contact hours: self-directed practice & study

1800 notional learning hours in Year 1 and 1400 hours in Year 2, split broadly 30% contact and 70% private study depending on Principal Study. Grad Cert is 1100 hours. The key operative word here is 'notional'. The demands of a practical music programme are necessarily spread unevenly across the year, especially considering the number of experiential activities and projects that the students are involved in every year alongside the curriculum. Moreover, individual students' learning, practicing, and assessment preparation methods vary considerably, also in relation to their professional and artistic ambitions and opportunities.

13.5 MPerf/MComp Programme

Year One is one year full-time or two years part-time (Performance* & Composition pathways). Year Two is one year full-time for all pathways.

* The Opera specialism within the Performance pathway is full-time only and Year 1 takes 2 academic years. Students who have completed Year 1 Opera and want to continue to Year 2 will need to do so in the Vocal Studies department.

Years	Award/Exit Award	Core modules		Elective modules	Total credits
Year 1	MMus	Principal Study 120 credits (L7)	Reflective Practice 20 credits (L7)	Total of 40 credits (maximum of 30 at L6)	180

Years	Award/Exit Award	Core modules		Elective modules	Total credits

Year 2	MPerf MComp	PS Projects Portfolio 120 credits (L7)	Critique 20 credits (L7)		140

13.6 Extended MPerf/MComp Programme

The Extended Programme takes three years. Years 1 and 2 are as above, and they are preceded by the Graduate Certificate year that can only be taken on a full-time basis. Students who pass the Graduate Certificate year can continue to Year 1.

In the Performance Pathway, progression to Year 1, does not grant automatic admission to the Orchestral Artistry PS module. For this specialism, the Graduate Certificate principal study Final Recital may be used as the audition event, or a separate audition may be arranged prior to the commencement of the course. Students otherwise continue onto the Principal Study in Performance (Year 1).

14. Teaching & Learning Methodology & Assessment Strategy

14.1 General Approach

The teaching and learning strategies are designed to deliver the programme's aims through attainment of the programme's learning outcomes. Students are engaged in a combination of curriculum-based learning provision, and experiential learning that provides opportunities to apply, extend and consolidate curricular learning.

14.2 Teaching & Learning methodologies

The curriculum provision includes all the activities that are taught as part of the degree and contribute to credits. There are three broad curriculum areas, deeply interconnected, each with carefully designed methodologies.

The teaching of the Principal Study in Year 1 is based on a core of individual one-to-one lessons supported by PS-led classes and activities according to the nature and need of different PS. PS modules are a microcosm of teaching and learning aimed at the specific artistic and professional development of individual students.

In Year 2 the intense work in one-to-one lessons and classes continues according to specialisms. Experiences in real professional contexts are an integral part of the students' development, and students are required to seek independent opportunities of presenting publicly their Principal Study work.

PS work is supported by core reflective practice aimed at developing students' ability to evaluate their own learning and professional development, in preparation for further continuous independent learning once the degree is completed. This work is supported by several core lectures on physical and psychological aspects of high intensity music making, understanding and interacting with the profession, and refining skills that enhance artistic and professional profile. This work is supported by an individual tutor through a mix of group and individual sessions.

In Year 1, specialised elective modules complete the programme. They range from performance-based to academic-based, and enhance learning and development in areas connected and complementary to PS, or additional to it.

Alongside the curriculum, experiential learning is crucial to the artistic and professional development of musicians and is a fundamental part of the overall experience at the School. This is mostly project based and includes principal study related activities (for example solo opportunities, ensemble and orchestral performances, workshops, master classes), and projects which the School offers from time to time, both in-house and in partnership with outside venues and organisations, both in the UK and abroad.

All teaching happens in person, apart from some individual tutorials in the Academic Studies area that, under the appropriate educational conditions, can be effectively delivered online. Occasionally, other core-teaching sessions might be online.

14.3 Programme assessment strategy

The main types of assessment are practical examinations, written assignments, portfolios, individual presentations and, in some modules, coursework marks and progress reports.

Assessments are mostly based on the evaluation of product (for example performances, exams, written submissions, interviews or viva voce), but in some cases learning processes are also assessed (e.g. learning as demonstrated through real-time contributions to, and engagement in classes and rehearsals).

The evaluation of assessment tasks is regulated by a set of assessment criteria which are linked, on the one hand, to the 'learning outcomes' and, on the other, to specific types of learning 'outputs' (e.g. performance, artistic/creative work, research, learning processes and reflection on experiences).

Assessment in Principal Study is comparable across disciplines in terms of structures and schedules, but it is also necessarily diverse. It is ultimately driven by the specific professional expectations, technical demands, and patterns of student learning of instruments, voice, composition or production. Assessment in the other core or elective areas of the curriculum is regulated by equivalent parameters within the different assessment modalities.

All practical assessments are in person, apart from some individual presentations in Academic Studies that, under the appropriate educational conditions, are deemed to be equally effective online.

14.4 Feedback to students

Formative feedback (for guiding learning), whether written or verbal, is a key feature across all teaching. Summative assessments (to evaluate learning) are always accompanied by written feedback and are kept to the minimum necessary for the progression needs of the classes/modules. Diagnostic assessments (for calibrating future learning) are carried out specifically in relation to the allocation of students to classes (both compulsory streamed classes, and the electives that require prerequisites). Most assessments lead to a discrete mark, but there are also pass/fail assessments.

16. Assessment Regulations

The following regulations are in addition to the general assessment regulations for taught programmes that are in the Academic Regulations and that cover attendance at examinations and submission of coursework (including late penalties), extenuating circumstances, external examiners and academic misconduct.

16.1a Requirements to pass a module

To pass a module and acquire the associated credit, a student must complete all the module's assessment components and achieve a minimum aggregate mark of 50 (L7) or 40 (L6), including a 'pass' in any component which is assessed with pass/fail.

The aggregate mark of a module is the sum of the marks of each component listed in the module specification, weighted according to the specified percentage, and assessed according to the stated FHEQ level and associated criteria. If a student has been assessed in more than the standard number of module components, those with the highest results are used for calculation. Any module component assessed with pass/fail is not considered for the numerical module aggregate.

16.1b Compensation at module component level

Compensation of marks applies when the aggregate mark of module components includes a marginal fail, but the overall numerical result is a pass.

- Compensation is not applicable to Principal Study module components.
- Only one component that achieves a marginal fail (40-49 in L7 or 30-39 in L6) is allowed in any other module, provided the overall aggregate of the module is a pass.

All components scoring less than 40 (L7) or 30 (L6) do not meet the overarching learning margin of the module's learning outcomes and need to be re taken, even if the overall aggregate of the module is a pass.

Some module components may include a number of smaller subcomponents that are detailed in the handbooks, course material, or the School VLE. Compensation can always be applied at sub-component level, including in PS modules, also below 40 (L7) or 30 (L6), apart from fail for academic misconduct (e.g. plagiarism, collusion). Compensation does not apply to module components assessed with pass/fail.

16.1c Re-assessment / Re-sit provisions for a module or module components

In case of a non-compensatable fail of a module component, or of an overall module fail, the School Board of Examiners allows a student to re-sit that component, or module, and sets the date, time and modalities under the following conditions:

- i. The re-sit must be equivalent to the original task, its aims and learning outcomes
- ii. A module component/module may be re-sat only once.

A successful re-sit is awarded the minimum pass mark. In cases of module components, this minimum pass mark is aggregated to the mark(s) of other passed component(s) according to the specified percentage for a full final module mark.

In case of failure for academic misconduct (e.g. plagiarism, collusion), a successful resit might be awarded the credits to pass the module component/module, but not the mark, which remains at the original failed mark for calculation of the overall module/degree result. For more details see also the Academic Regulations (3.12).

Any failed pass/fail module component/module is considered under the above rules for re-sit provision.

If more than one component in a module have been failed, the School Board of Examiners may permit a student, on a pedagogical basis, to re-sit only one of the fails, and will establish the conditions whereby the overall module can be passed (e.g. if the strictly numerical aggregate remains a fail). This can be applied only to marginal fails (40-49, L7; 30-39, L6).

16.2a Requirement to pass a year and to progress

To pass a year and acquire its associated credit, or progress to an award, a student must complete and pass all the modules associated to that year.

The aggregate mark for a year is the aggregate mark of the individual module marks weighted proportionally to their credit values, as specified in the Programme Specification. If a student has been assessed in more than the standard number of modules (i.e. electives), those with the highest results are used for calculation.

These aggregate marks constitute the calculations of the relevant awards.

To progress to the next year, a student must fulfil the requirements below:

To progress from the Graduate Certificate Year to Year 1, a student needs to pass all modules of the GC

To progress from Year 1 to Year 2, a student needs to pass all modules in Year 1.

16.2b Compensation at programme level

If, having made a valid attempt at re-sit, a student fails up to 10 credits, compensation provisions may be applied by the School Board of Examiners if the required Learning Outcomes have nonetheless been achieved on the basis of the results of the re-sit and of other passed modules/module components that share the same LOs. Where compensation is applied to any module included in the calculation for an award, the maximum classification awarded will be a Pass.

16.4 Resit charges

A re-sit fee is charged for re-sitting each module component failed. These charges are given in full in the Programme Handbook at the beginning of each academic year.

16.5 Failure of a year and the award of a lower level qualification

Where a student fails to meet the requirements for a particular year, having exhausted all re-sit opportunities at module component or module level, but satisfies the requirements for an exit award for that year or a preceding year (Grad Cert, PG Dip, MMus) (, the student may be considered by the School Board of Examiners for an exit award or lower level qualification.

16.6 Fail Withdraw

Where a student fails to meet the requirements for a particular year and is not eligible for the award of an exit qualification, the School Board of Examiners will require the student to withdraw from the programme.

16.7 Periods of registration

The minimum and maximum periods for consideration for an award listed in 16.3 is as follows:

Award	Min. Period	Max. Period
MPerf & MComp	Min. period: 2 years FT*	Max. 4 years (5 years extended prog)
MMus	Min. period: 1 year FT*	Max. 3 years (4 years extended prog)
PGDip	Min. period: 1 year FT*	Max. 2 years (3 years extended prog)
Graduate Certificate	Min. period: 1 year FT	Max. 2 years

The maximum period of study will include any repeat year and/or periods of deferral or interruption.

* The minimum period may be reduced where a student has transferred from a relevant programme offered by another higher education institution, see Academic Regulations (2, 3.2.1).

16.8 Years of the programme and mode of attendance

Year 1 of the Programme is delivered on a one year full-time or two years part-time basis, with the exception of the Opera Course which is two-year FT only.

Where applicable, a student may apply to change from full-time to part-time at any point up until the 25 November in the autumn term. Changes after this date, and up to the end of the second term, will only be permitted for exceptional professional/academic reasons supported by written statements from the Head of Principal Study Department, obtained by the students themselves.

The Graduate Certificate year and Year 2 are available only as one-year full-time.

16.9 Scheduling of Assessment

The assessment schedule for all modules/module components is published in the Programme and Departmental Handbooks, and in the course material that are available on the intranet at the beginning of the academic year. Practical assessments dates are logged onto ASIMUT, and available to be consulted by students normally by the end of term 1. Submission dates are usually available via Moodle, the School's VLE.

This does not apply to project B and C of the PS module in Year 2, which are devised and scheduled by students themselves according to a specific process supervised by the School (see 16.14).

16.10 General Assessment Requirements & Guidelines

Assessment requirements (e.g. content, duration, length of submissions) and guidelines are included in the module specifications or in the programme and departmental handbooks, as well in additional teaching material and communications for each class.

Reasonable adjustments in assessment are made by the School in case of students with disabilities. In these cases, considered on an individual basis, the Music Department liaises closely with the Student Affairs Department.

In certain situations, especially involving medical or professional extenuating circumstances, the Music Division and the student affected agree on a Special Scheme of Study that is approved by the Academic Board. This scheme sets out alternative arrangements for how the student might meet and be assessed in the learning outcomes affected by the student's circumstances.

16.11 General Assessment Regulations

1) A student may not count a formal assessment for more than one module or module component during the full duration of the programme. This applies to both performances/practical exams and academic assignments. See Academic Regulations (3.8.4). This normally applies to an internal student continuing from BMus to the MPerf/MComp, but exceptions in PS are possible for artistic, professional and developmental reasons, and cleared by the Head of Department.

2) Principal Study Final Recital durations are detailed in the principal study departmental handbooks. Durations are normally taken from when the students first play (including tuning) to when the applause for the final piece begins. The following penalties apply when recitals do not follow published duration requirement:

- A recital more than 5 minutes short of the minimum requirement is penalised by 1 mark per minute, starting at 6 marks for 6 minutes short
- A recital that exceeds the maximum time by 5 minutes is penalised by 5 marks, and may be terminated at the discretion of the panel chair.

3) Specific length requirements (as minimum and maximum word-counts) are indicated for each written submission in the programme or departmental handbooks. 1 point is deducted for being 1 word under or over the specified word limit; another point is deducted for every further 100 words.

4) All written submissions must be presented with:

- Cover sheet that includes factual information on the assignment (module and/or module component title, student's name, tutor's name, assignment title and word count) and the following statement:

"I certify that the coursework that I have submitted is my own unaided work, and that I have read, understood and complied with the guidelines on plagiarism as set out in the programme handbook. I understand that the School may make use of plagiarism detection software and that my work may therefore be stored on a database which is accessible to other users of the same software. I certify that the word count declared is correct."

- Standard academic and professional protocols appropriate to the nature of the submission. These may include citations, footnotes and bibliographies. Details are included in each module teaching and assessment material.

5) Any suspected academic misconduct (e.g. plagiarism, collusion) will be considered under the School's academic misconduct procedures.

16.12 Assessment Procedures

16.12a In practical examinations, including principal study, chamber music, interviews, lecture recitals and illustrated lectures, the examining panel includes at least two members of the teaching staff, of which at least one is from the department in charge of the module.

16.12b The panels for Final Recitals in Year 1 and Project A in Year 2 include a senior teaching member of the music department (normally as chair), a senior member of the principal study department and an external assessor specialist in the principal study being examined.

16.12c The assessment of written submissions varies. For PS Composition and EPM, both Year 1 and Year 2 submissions are double marked by an external assessor and the results finalized through internal moderation. For AS, all submissions are first marked and subsequently sampled for moderation by a member of staff or by a moderating panel.

16.12d In the case of chamber music, the panel evaluates student performance alongside any other student input. However, if a student is being assessed individually in a chamber music setting, the report will be specific to the student.

16.12e The evaluation of assessment tasks is calibrated by a set of assessment criteria which are linked to specific types of learning outcomes. Learning is assessed through performance, through composition, through academic-type work, through completion of artistic/creative tasks either practical or written, through the monitoring of specific learning processes, through reflection on learning experiences.

16.12f Pass/Fail elements of the curriculum, both practical and coursework based, are assessed using the relevant standard criteria in terms of both the pass/fail threshold and the language used in the feedback.

16.12g Year 2 Principal Study Performance module assessments adhere to the general regulations, with the exception that the assessment of the two projects/performances organized by the students themselves (B and C, and of which at least C must be external), follow the following pattern:

- Projects/performances B and C are assessed by one assessor present at the event.
- The assessor, that needs to have experience as an artist as well as an educator (preferably in HE), can be internal or external, and it is proposed by the student and approved by the School.
- The student must also arrange the recording (audio or video) for moderation purposes.
- Moderation of the recordings is undertaken by a senior member of the PS department, or of the Music Division, for all projects marked by one assessor only, whether external or internal.

16.13 Feedback to students after assessments

Normally, practical exam reports (e.g. performance exams) are individually communicated within a few days of the assessment event.

Written submission assessment takes longer because of the marking and moderation processes that need to take place. Normally, the reports are available to students after the equivalent of six term-weeks from the submission.

Formative feedback on exam content, draft submissions and other preparatory work for assessment is given in lessons, classes and tutorials.

Results in the form of grades that a student may receive during the year will be provisional until they have been approved by the relevant School Board of Examiners and the Pass List has been signed by Registry.

The Music Programme Assessment Board considers marks and re-sit provisions on an interim basis for specific module components that are taken during the academic year (e.g. PS mid-year exams) and that, for pedagogical reasons, if failed may need to be re-sat before the end-of-year exam can be taken.

It is aimed at students who are not yet at the required level for the Year 1 Principal Study module, but have the potential of reaching that level by the end of the academic year.

It can be taken in one of the following professional specialisms: Advanced Instrumental Studies, Vocal Studies, Piano Accompaniment, Jazz and Historical Performance Practice. It is run by the relevant principal study department.

This module aims to:

- Develop students' technical and artistic capacity for performance in individual and/or ensemble contexts appropriate to their specialisms, at the level required to access Year 1 of the programme.
- Equip students with appropriate expertise which can be used in appropriate contexts.
- Develop students' confidence, independence and self-reliance necessary for a life of changing professional expectations.
- Provide students with experiences and opportunities to start to identify and understand their own artistic vision.

- Develop in the students appropriate communication and interaction skills with audiences and performance partners.

10. Teaching & Assessment Methodology

Method of teaching delivery:

This module consists of one-to-one lessons, coaching, masterclasses and other departmental activities for the development of the students' technical preparation, repertoire and stylistic knowledge, artistic insight and individual imagination.

Students also select, in negotiation with the Principal Study professor and the Head of Department, two further classes/activities among BMus 3 and 4 Principal Study components including, for singers, assessed Vocal Studies projects. Classes other than PS based (e.g. electives) can also be taken if appropriate.

Students are also involved in solo and ensemble experiential learning opportunities, usually through intensive projects.

Assessment:

There are four assessment components:

- Two PS exams: Mid-Year and End-of-Year (Final Recital) [Assessment Criteria: Performance].
- Two further assessment tasks derived from the departmental classes / electives selected [Assessment Criteria: as appropriate to the class]

The teaching and assessment patterns, and the repertoire/ technical requirement are specific to each Principal Study and to the students' specialisms, and are included in detail in the relevant PS handbooks.

Written feedback is provided after each summative assessment. Informal formative feedback is provided by the principal study professor, as well as on each student's platform performances by other departmental professorial staff.

10. Teaching & Assessment Methodology

Method of teaching delivery:

Delivery consists of one-to-one lessons, coaching, masterclasses and other activities for the development of the students' technical preparation, repertoire and stylistic knowledge, artistic insight and individual imagination. Students are also involved in solo and ensemble experiential learning opportunities, usually through intensive projects.

Assessment:

The assessment consists of a Mid-Year and End-of-Year (Final Recital) exams [Assessment Criteria: Performance]. For students on the Opera Course, these two assessments are covered by the Opera Department productions (respectively spring opera scenes and spring or summer full opera productions). Students on the Part-Time Programme take the Mid-Year exam at the end of PT year 1, and the End-of-Year (Final Recital) at the end of PT year 2. The teaching and assessment patterns, and the repertoire/technical requirements are specific to each principal study and to the above-mentioned specialisms, and are included in detail in the relevant PS handbooks.

Written feedback is provided after each summative assessment. Informal formative feedback is provided by the principal study professor, as well as on each student's platform performances by other departmental professorial staff.

9. Aims of the Module

This module is at the centre of teaching and learning of Year 2 of the Performance Pathway of the programme. Prerequisites for this module are:

It includes the following professional specialisms: Advanced Instrumental Studies, Vocal Studies, Opera Studies, Piano Accompaniment, Jazz and Historical Performance Practice. It is run by the relevant principal study department.

This module aims to:

- Develop the students to their highest individual level of technical abilities, interpretative insight and artistic vision.
- Develop in students a comprehensive understanding of, and demonstrable capacity for, the preparation and performance of material relevant to their specialisms and to professional performance contexts.
- Assist students to be innovative and intensely self-challenging within their field of expertise.
- Support students in developing self-direction in tackling and solving performance related challenges.
- Support students in planning and implementing projects, either through independent action or as an autonomous member of an appropriate project team or ensemble.

10. Teaching & Assessment Methodology

Method of teaching delivery:

This module consists of one-to-one lessons, coaching, masterclasses and other activities for the continuing development of the students' technical preparation, repertoire and stylistic knowledge, artistic insight and individual imagination. Students may, if agreed with their principal study head of department, attend a range of departmentally based classes. Students are also involved in solo and ensemble experiential learning opportunities, usually through intensive projects.

Assessment:

The assessment of the module consists of three components:

- Performance A (55-65 minute performance duration for AIS; 45-60 minute performance duration for students on the vocal training course; for wind, brass and percussion, a programme of 45-60 minute duration, containing not less than 35 minutes of music). The inclusion of a short interval is at the discretion of the student, and will be included in the overall performance time.
- Performance B (20 minutes minimum), a performance organised by the student (or, in some circumstances, proposed by the School), that can be either in a School venue or external, including abroad.
- Performance C (20 minutes minimum), a performance organised by the student that must be in an outside venue, including abroad.

While Performance A is comparable to a final recital or an operatic role for opera students, the scope of projects B and C ranges considerably to include artistic and professional situations relevant to each specialism, for instance concerto performances, chamber music, opera scenes, or other equivalent approved performance projects.

- By a deadline set early in the autumn term, students submit a proposal for the three performance projects for assessment. The proposal must be supported by a short statement (approx. 500 words) to describe and justify the artistic and professional nature of these performances in relation to the students' own development and artistic and professional aims. The proposal is evaluated and approved by the Head of Department and the Head of Music Programmes in consultation. Performance A is assessed by a panel set up by the School.
- Performances B and C are assessed by one (or more) internal or external assessor(s) proposed by the student and approved by the School. The student must also arrange the recording (preferably video) for assessment moderation, and for scrutiny of the External Examiner.
- The appointment of an assessor for performances B and C is as follows. The student approaches informally the assessor(s) and submits to the School the CV that needs to demonstrate considerable professional/pedagogical experience at international level. The School approves/rejects the proposal (this is normally done by the Head of Department and Head of Music Programmes in consultation). The approved assessor is then contacted by the School (normally the Music Office) for the confirmation of the appointment, for supplying the assessment requirements, reports and criteria, and for receiving back the report and for paying the assessment fee.

Written feedback is provided after each summative assessment. Informal formative feedback is provided by the principal study professor, as well as on each student's platform performances by other departmental professorial staff.

17.4 Principal Study in Orchestral Artistry (Year 1 and Year 2)

1. Module Title	Principal Study in Orchestral Artistry (Year 1 and Year 2)
2. HE Level	7

5. Location of Delivery	Guildhall School
6a. Module Type	Taught
6b. Applicable in the year of study	Years 1 and 2
7. Module Leader	Head of Orchestral Artistry
8. Department	Strings and WBP

9. Aims of the Module

The Orchestral Artistry specialisation is available for Violin, Viola, Cello, Double Bass, Harp, Flute, Oboe, Clarinet, Bassoon, French Horn, Trumpet, Trombone, Tuba, Timpani and Percussion.

The module can only be taken full time, both in Year 1 and in Year 2.

Admission to the module in Year 1 consists in fulfilling the general process of admission into the MPerf Programme including, where appropriate, progression from the Graduate Certificate year.

Progression from the Graduate Certificate will not, however, guarantee automatic access to the module. In this case, the Graduate Certificate year Final Recital may also be used as the audition to OA, or a separate audition may be arranged prior to the commencement of the module.

This module aims to:

- Provide the technical skills to deliver high levels of performance as an orchestral and ensemble player.

- Promote a deep understanding through practical experience of the professional landscape that students are about to enter and an appropriate level of knowledge and skill to excel within it.
- Develop a clear understanding of how to communicate through music at emotional, intellectual, verbal, and virtual levels, to both specialist and non-specialist audiences and to articulate musical processes and experiences in a manner which demonstrates self-awareness and research capacity.
- Encourage a strong personal and ethical code of conduct.
- Establish a process of continuing refinement of personal and artistic development, integrating a high level of physical fitness and mental preparedness underpinned by knowledge of the psychological and physiological aspects of the profession.
- Foster a sense of enquiry towards one's life and the ability to learn for oneself with clear career objectives and the ambition, confidence and drive to achieve them.
- Advance an entrepreneurial skills base that reflects the needs of the 21st Century professional musician including knowledge and experience of pedagogy and community education work, specialist or additional knowledge in both advanced techniques for new music and historically informed interpretation, planning and promotion of concerts and educational work.

10. Teaching & Assessment Methodology

Method of teaching delivery:

The module is delivered in association with the London Symphony Orchestra. OA students have opportunities to take part in chamber orchestra repertoire sessions, side-by-side with LSO players, as well as Guildhall instrumental ensembles, and Guildhall Symphony Orchestra and Opera projects, alongside students from other Guildhall courses. The content is divided into three main areas of learning:

1. Principal Study – one to one tuition by Guildhall professors and LSO players on the Guildhall staff, masterclasses from LSO players and LSO international soloists. Over the course of two years, every student receives a minimum of one audition per year with a panel of LSO players, which may be filmed, with immediate verbal feedback.
2. Chamber & Orchestral ensemble training – classes and sectionals delivered by both LSO players and Guildhall professors. It includes:
  - a. Repertoire training, covering a selection from the core symphonic and large chamber repertoire.
  - b. Sight-reading training.
  - c. Ensemble training: orchestral technique and professional orchestra code of conduct.

3. Leadership, Entrepreneurial and Communication Skills - artistic as well as pedagogical and educational leadership skills, within the context of LSO Discovery projects. This includes:
  - a. Leadership training for curating, planning, promoting and delivering concert and education work.
  - b. Principal training, including group conducting lessons.
  - c. Education and outreach delivery, in contexts including Junior Guildhall and the Centre for Young Musicians. Two forms of training are offered: Instrumental coaching and Workshop leadership. Within both forms, students shadow/observe and participate alongside LSO players (and others) in Year 1, and then deepen their experience of hands-on leadership/ teaching in Year 2.

Students are also given the opportunity, where appropriate, to play in LSO schools and family concerts, and in conducting masterclass series, and to sit onstage in LSO rehearsals. LSO players also play side by side in student rehearsals or public workshops.

Assessment:

Year 1 consists of two exams, Mid-Year and End-of-Year. These are both orchestral auditions.

Year 2 consists of three projects, as in the general Performance Principal Study module, but with the following specific requirements:

- Project A is an orchestral audition;
- Project B (20 minutes minimum), a performance organised by the student (or, in some circumstances, proposed by the School), and that can be either in a School venue or external, including abroad.
- Project C (20 minutes minimum), a performance organised by the student and that must be in an outside venue, including abroad.

Possibilities for Projects B and C include solo recitals, chamber music or other approved performance projects.

By a deadline set early in the autumn term of Year 2, students submit a proposal for the three performance projects for assessment. The proposal must be supported by a short statement (approx. 500 words) to describe and justify the artistic and professional nature of these performances in relation to the students' own development and artistic and professional aims. The proposal is evaluated and approved by the Head of Department and the Head of Music Programmes in consultation.

Written feedback is provided after each summative assessment. Informal formative feedback is provided by the principal study professor, as well as on each student's platform performances by other departmental professorial staff and verbal feedback from LSO players.

9. Aims of the Module

This module is at the centre of teaching and learning in composition of Year 2 of the programme..

This module aims to:

- Develop the students to their highest individual level of creative ability and artistic vision.
- Encourage to question the boundaries of music practice and to understand the implications of the multi-disciplinary nature of music for contemporary creation, innovation and research.
- Develop in students a comprehensive understanding of, and demonstrable capacity for, the development of material which fulfils their artistic and aesthetic aims, in professional performance contexts.
- Assist students to be innovative and intensely self-challenging in the development of creative platforms for the presentation of their work
- Support students in developing self-direction in tackling and solving challenges relating to the performance and presentation of their work
- Support students in planning and implementing projects, either through independent action or as an autonomous member of an appropriate project team.
- Develop in the students the ability to communicate clearly and effectively to both specialist and non-specialist collaborators, performance partners and audiences.

10. Teaching & Assessment Methodology

Method of teaching delivery:

This module consists of one-to-one lessons, seminars, workshops and other activities for the continuing development of the students' technical facility, repertoire knowledge, artistic insight, individual creative imagination and capacity for experiment and innovation through creative collaboration.

Assessment:

The assessment of the module consists of three composition projects that combine the following requirements:

- One project should be generated by an internal Guildhall School performance opportunity.
- One project should be an external opportunity generated by the student, in consultation with departmental staff, which may draw on one the School's external partners.
- One project should be in some sense collaborative and may involve collaboration with an artist or artists from other disciplines
- One project should be performed in the context of a creative platform event, devised and curated by the student in consultation with departmental staff. The platform opportunity might involve contributions from other Guildhall students, students from other institutions and/or in other disciplines. The output will be assessed in terms of its success in the context of the complete performance event.

The student is free to negotiate with the module leader the precise configuration of their items for assessment using these parameters, but the total duration of material submitted should not be less than 30 minutes. Each item will be equally weighted (30%) within the folio.

By a deadline set early in the autumn term, students submit a proposal for the three project. This proposal must be supported by a short statement (approximately 1000 words) to describe and justify the artistic and professional nature of the three projects with particular emphasis on the creative platform event, in relation to the students' own development and aims. The proposal is evaluated and approved by the Composition Department and Head of Music Programmes. The assessment consists of:

- Submissions of the three projects, each accompanied by an audio recording, or a video recording for projects involving a visual, theatrical or choreographic element. The project performed within the creative platform event is assessed live by an examiner and internally moderated by a senior member of the Music Department and the External Assessor by video recording.

- Folio of written commentary for each project (100-150 word per minute of music) must be also submitted.
- Final viva-voce with a panel that includes both an external assessor and an internal member of staff, and is chaired by the Associate Head of Composition.

Written feedback is provided for each summative assessment. Informal formative feedback is provided by the principal study professor, as well as other departmental professorial staff involved in the departmental classes and workshops.

10. Teaching & Assessment Methodology

Method of teaching delivery:

The module is taught through a combination of one-to-one lessons, mentoring, supervision and collaborative group sessions/seminars. Students are also expected to further develop their entrepreneurial and leadership skills in the context of directing cross-discipline and cross-ability collaborative projects.

Assessment:

Students themselves plan, prepare and complete three projects, each involving its individual sense of artistic focus and specific context. These three projects must satisfy together the following conditions:

- One project must be in fulfilment of a departmental collaborative project
- One project must be an external opportunity generated by the student
- One project must have a collaborative element
- One project must be in response to, or result in, a commercially viable opportunity

Students are free to negotiate with their one-to-one professor and Head of Department the precise configuration of their projects for assessment using these parameters, but the combined ‘audience engagement time’ across the three projects must be roughly equivalent to a minimum of 30 minutes. Each project will be equally weighted (30%) within the folio.

By a deadline set early in the autumn term, students submit a proposal for the three project. This proposal must be supported by a short statement (approximately 500 words) to describe and justify the artistic and professional nature of the three projects, in relation to the students’ own development and aims. The proposal is evaluated and approved by the EPM Department and Head of Music Programmes. Folio submissions may be in whatever format is most appropriate for the character of the project(s) and where these differ significantly, multiple submission formats are accepted (e.g. installation art is best assessed on site so the most appropriate submission is to arrange for a team of assessors to visit the project in situ, backed up by material that documents the project as effectively as is possible).

In addition to the folio of creative projects, students also submit either a business plan or an artistic manifesto that sets out a strategic vision and context for successfully establishing themselves as an artist (3,000 words).

Written feedback is provided after each summative assessment. Informal formative feedback is provided by the principal study professor, as well as other departmental professorial staff involved in the departmental classes and activities.

18. Reflective Practice Modules

18.1 Reflective Practice

1. Module Title	Reflective Practice
2. HE Level	7
3. Credit Value	20
4. SITS Module Code	REF4003 (Graduate Certificate) REF4004A (Year 1)

6b. Applicable in the year of study	Grad Cert Year and Year 1
7. Module Leader	Deputy Head of Academic Studies, Academic and Artistic Integration  Senior Postgraduate Tutor (Discussion Groups)
8. Department	Academic Studies

9. Aims of the Module

The progression from an undergraduate degree to a Masters degree is marked by the increased self-reliance of a student in preparation for a professional career. In Principal Study, this is expressed through the production, by the student, of their Year 2 portfolio. The Reflective Practice modules in Graduate Certificate and Year 1, and the Critique of Personal Development module in Year 2 supports this process by introducing and developing self-reflective techniques that allow the student to develop the resilience required of a professional musician. In particular, Reflective Practice will:

- introduce professional development issues of relevance to all postgraduate students;
- develop the students' capacity to reflect intelligently on the nature of musical excellence and on their own emerging professional relationship with musical performance, composition and leadership;
- help students be open-minded in questioning the boundaries of traditional practice in relation to self-reflection, research and professional development

- ensure students are able to articulate and present their reflective practice in a manner which is appropriate for diverse audiences and media;
- allow an opportunity for consideration of aspects of the students' long term artistic professional development;
- help students integrate their diverse experiences within the programme into a cohesive whole.

10. Teaching & Assessment Methodology

Methods of teaching delivery:

The Reflective Practice module is delivered through a combination of whole-cohort lectures, workshops, and discussion groups lead by a tutor and spread across the year to support individual learning. Assessment and discussion groups are closely linked to enhance formative feedback.

At the start of the year, students attend two whole-cohort lectures, to introduce them to the key concepts of reflective practice, and professional practice and well-being. Subsequent seminars during the year address topics including diversity and resilience as well as asking philosophical questions about the “stuff” of music.

Shortly after these lectures, students gather in discussion groups to develop their first self-reflective account, an essay that identifies objectives and suggests strategies for the coming year. Groups are allocated by pathway and principal study and are often led by principal study professors.

In the final week of the autumn term, students attend a second discussion group meeting to receive additional formative feedback on their self-reflective account and to engage in peer discussion and support of their strategies.

A mini-module, Making Things Happen, offers workshops introducing the musician as producer, paying particular attention to the developing blended performance environment. Students create a project pitch as part of these workshops and may be invited for further mentoring to develop particularly innovative projects.

Discussion groups provide formative feedback on the students' engagement with the whole-cohort activities of the first and second terms. Students are also invited to attend BMus 4 Professional Practice seminars that develop the administrative skills required by a freelance musician.

The summer term offers support as required by each group as they prepare for their summative self-reflective account. The summative account develops ideas formulated in the autumn assessment through an evaluation of musical and personal progress and artistic exploration that can be supported by relevant secondary research.

Assessment:

The module is assessed with:

Self-reflective Account 1 (1350-1650 words) with objectives and learning and development strategies for the coming year (pass/fail) [Assessment Criteria: Personal & Professional Reflection].

Self-reflective Account 2 (2250-2750 words) with evaluation of musical and personal progress and artistic exploration during the year, developing ideas formulated in SRA1 [Assessment Criteria: Personal & Professional Reflection].

Project Pitch (1-2 pages) (pass/fail) [Assessment Criteria: Personal & Professional Reflection].

Part-time students and Opera Studies

The self-reflective process is continuous; students who are part-time and students who take Year 1 in two years (Opera) are expected to engage with the taught parts of the programme in both years. Assessment is split across two years. In their first year students submit the autumn SRA and the spring project pitch. In their second year students submit the summer SRA.

Extended programme

The self-reflective process is continuous; students who undertook the Graduate Certificate year take the RP module again in Year 1, and the SRAs submissions reflect the continuing development from GC into Year 1.

18.2 Critique of Personal Development

1. Module Title	Critique of Personal Development
2. HE Level	7
3. Credit Value	20
4. SITS Module Code	CON4033
5. Location of Delivery	Guildhall School
6a. Module Type	Taught
6b. Applicable in the year of study	Year 2
7. Module Leader	Deputy Head of Academic Studies, Academic and Artistic Integration  Senior Postgraduate Tutor (Mentoring Groups)
8. Department	Academic Studies

9. Aims of the Module

Year 2 of the programme allows the student to bridge the divide between formal study and a professional career. The Critique of Personal Development module (CPD) supports this process by developing self-reflective techniques that allow the student to acquire the resilience expected of a professional musician. In particular, CPD will:

- develop a comprehensive understanding of, and demonstrable capacity for, the research and self-reflective skills involved in preparing and processing their artistic and professional projects;
- encourage students to be innovative and self-challenging within their field of expertise;
- enable students to demonstrate self-direction in tackling and solving challenges related to their specialisms;
- ensure students are able to articulate and present their reflective practice in a manner which is appropriate for diverse audiences and media;
- provide academic support for the students as they progress through Year 2 of the programme.

10. Teaching & Assessment Methodology

Method of teaching delivery:

The Critique of Personal Development reinforces concepts from the Year 1 Reflective Practice module. Like Principal Study, this Year 2 module encourages independent learning whilst offering opportunities for peer support and structured learning.

The majority of teaching is self-directed, offering formative feedback through weekly, cross-departmental Peer Presentations which are moderated by senior members of the Academic Studies team. Students share and discuss new musical ideas; each student delivers material at two Peer Presentations and attends and contributes to discussions at a further two sessions.

The first presentation reflects upon an aspect of the student's musicianship that has been influenced by an event outside of their regular curriculum. This may include School series (e.g. ResearchWorks, String Lab, or similar), external musical events (e.g. concerts or conferences), or engagement with other art forms. The module includes also a series of seminars during the year which address topics including diversity and resilience as well as asking philosophical questions about the "stuff" of music.

The second presentation is a staging post towards the final assessment, offering an opportunity for students to present some of the themes they will develop, and receive feedback and inspiration from their peers.

Formal, tutorial support is provided through an introductory, whole-cohort lecture which reminds students of the concepts of reflective practice and emphasises the rhythm of the year. Further tutorial support is offered on an on-request basis; students are expected to take up the opportunities to develop and refine their ideas as they prepare for their assessments.

Assessment:

Assessment consists of two submissions:

The first, the External Project Framework, is a written submission of 1350-1650 words that is due at the end of the first term. This follows on and develops from the short submission of the students' principal study project plans earlier in the term, reflecting in particular on the artistic framework for the external project(s).

The second submission, the Critique of Personal Development, is a freer piece of work in which students may choose to reflect on, for example, a single aspect of their musicianship, a particular project, or their trajectory as an artist. The output takes the form of a piece of work equivalent to 3150-3560 words. This may include, but not be limited to, an extended essay (presented either as an essay or a comparable multimodal digital resource) or a portfolio of research/performance artefacts supported by a written exegesis of the evaluation process.

Approaches will vary and guidance from the tutor and peer-presentations will be valuable in determining the most appropriate way of structuring this submission.

6a. Module Type	Taught
6b. Applicable in the year of study	Year 1
7. Module Leader	Heads or Deputy Heads
8. Department	Principal Study Departments

9. Aims of the Module

This module offers the principal study performance and principal study composition students the opportunity to dedicate additional time, scope and focus to their PS, and to enhance the development of their technical and artistic capacity for performance at professional level.

The module is offered at 10 or 20 credits.

10. Teaching & Assessment Methodology

Method of teaching delivery:

Teaching and supervision relevant to the student's work on this module take place within the Principal Study individual lessons. Students can allocate, in negotiation with their professor and HoD, up to 6 (10 credits) or 9 (20 credits) hours of their normal PS lesson towards the specific preparation for this module.

Assessment:

APS 10 credit is assessed with a 20-minute performance. Instrumentalists present either two contrasting movements or pieces of repertoire, or one substantial piece of repertoire; singers present a number of songs / arias [Assessment Criteria:

Performance]. Electronic & Produced Music students submit a folio of advanced work, normally 8-10 minutes in length or equivalent as agreed with the student's PS Professor for work which involves significant technical development (e.g. computer programming), or has no fixed length (e.g. sound installation, game audio) [Assessment Criteria: EPM Portfolio]. Composers submit a 5-6 minute medium-sized chamber work (4-6 players). The final details of the APS Composition submission to be approved in consultation with the Principal Study teacher and the AHoD (Postgraduate) in advance [Assessment Criteria: Composition Portfolio].

APS 20 credit is assessed with a 30-minute performance. Instrumentalists present a balanced programme including substantial pieces of repertoire; singers present a balanced programme of songs / arias [Assessment Criteria: Performance]. Electronic & Produced Music students submit a folio of advanced work, normally 17-20 minutes in length or equivalent as agreed with the student's PS Professor for work which involves significant technical development (e.g. computer programming), or has no fixed length (e.g. sound installation, game audio) [Assessment Criteria: EPM Portfolio]. Composers submit a 9-12 minute medium-sized chamber work (4-6 players) or equivalent. The final details of the APS Composition submission to be approved in consultation with the Principal Study teacher and the AHoD (Postgraduate) in advance [Assessment Criteria: Composition Portfolio].

For all performance students, the repertoire of the exam is agreed with the PS teacher, according to each student's abilities and ambitions and aligning with the notional study time allocation for learning and practising. Performance students must also present a printed programme list to the examiners along with copies of the scores.

19.2 Artistry in Stylistic Composition A & B

1. Module Title	Artistry in Stylistic Composition
2. HE Level	7
3. Credit Value	Each Module 10
4. SITS Module Code	ELE4068A ELE4068B
5. Location of Delivery	Guildhall School
6a. Module Type	Taught
6b. Applicable in the year of study	Year 1
7. Module Leader	Deputy Head of Academic Studies (UG)
8. Department	Academic Studies

9. Aims of the Module

This module aims to:

- develop technical abilities and artistic perspectives in stylistic composition or orchestration.
- encourage in students a critical attention to the technical and artistic detail of music.
- develop a critical understanding of historical composers' practices which will aid students' own musical practices.
- develop skills that will complement and enhance learning in other elective subjects such as conducting and historical topics.
- develop skills which may be relevant to students' later professional practice as performers, teachers, conductors, arrangers and music producers.

There are four pathways, and both A and B modules can be taken following different pathways for a total of 20 credits. Prerequisites might apply to individual pathways; see below for details.

Not all pathways are available every year, and classes might need a minimum number of students to run. This will be notified before elective choices are made.

10. Teaching & Assessment Methodology

Method of teaching delivery:

Students may choose between five possible pathways:

- 1) 'Stylistic Composition': students will write in selected styles and genres (for example nineteenth-century piano miniatures/songs for voice and piano) through a process of study, analysis and pastiche composition. Prerequisites: students present sample of previous relevant work to demonstrate required familiarity with relevant knowledge and skills.
- 2) 'Counterpoint': students will study species counterpoint in two and three parts. The practical study of counterpoint is complemented by the study of its historical and stylistic contexts, with background reading and listening, score reading and analysis.
- 3) 'Introduction to fugue': students will learn to write two and three-part fugues in a tonal idiom that broadly ranges from the eighteenth to the nineteenth centuries. The pedagogical approach is based on relevant repertoire supported by treatises Dubois and Gedalge, complemented by other eighteenth-century sources (Fux, Martini) and current literature (Walker). Prerequisites: students present sample of previous relevant work to demonstrate required familiarity with relevant knowledge and skills.
- 4) 'Orchestration': this class includes the study of orchestration from the Baroque to the twentieth century, and will consider issues such as instrumental balance, blend and layout on a score, tonal colour and contrast, clefs and transposing instruments. Prerequisites: students present sample of previous relevant work to demonstrate required familiarity with relevant knowledge and skills.

Assessment:

For all pathways, assessment comprises a portfolio of notational assignments (100%) [Assessment Criteria: Artistic]. These range from a collection of two and three part species counterpoint, to two fugues, four orchestration assignments, and three short xviii and xix Century instrumental compositions.

9. Aims of the Module

This module aims to:

- Develop and refine technical and artistic abilities in chamber music.
- Develop the creative and co-operative skills necessary for the chamber player.
- Develop technical and artistic cohesion and individuality within a particular ensemble group.
- Enhance specialised knowledge and detailed understanding of the repertoire through study of chamber music.
- Develop students' capacity for autonomy and efficiency in work practice, in preparation for professional chamber music making demands.

11. Teaching & Assessment Methodology

Method of teaching delivery:

Groups are formed with support from the Chamber Music faculty. Registered groups receive lessons, coaching and masterclasses with internal staff and visiting groups/individuals. Groups are encouraged also to seek external opportunities for performance as well as internal platforms concerts and competitions.

The module can be taken at 10 or 20 credits. The 20 credit option is subject to confirming the suitability of the candidates (audition, colloquium), in relation also to the effectiveness of viable groups.

Assessment:

STRINGS/KEYBOARD: the 10 credit module is assessed in a 20-minute performance involving a complete work of no less than 20 minutes' duration, of which the panel will select movements/excerpts. The 20 credit module is assessed with two 20-minute performances (or in certain circumstances one 40 minute performance) of two major chamber contrasting works, each of at least 20 minutes' duration, of which the panel will select movements/excerpts. [Assessment Criteria: Performance]

WIND/BRASS AND PERCUSSION: the module is assessed in a final 20-minute performance (10-credit elective), or two 20-minute performances (20-credit elective) or a 40-minute performance (20-credit elective). Repertoire can be either a whole work, or contrasting movements selected from different works, or smaller complete works, or a combination of any of those. [Assessment Criteria: Performance]

ALL: repertoire cannot be repeated across different assessments.

ALL: the Assessed Performances constitute 80% of the final mark. The assessment is completed by a Progress Report (20%) [Assessment Criteria: Process].

The group must present a short printed programme to the assessors listing the repertoire, and the movements to be played, but programme notes are not required. The group must also provide the assessors with a copy of each score (or a copy of all the parts if there is no published score).

In addition to the practical assessments, there are additional non-assessed minimum requirements (e.g. coaching/platforms/masterclass) which will be communicated at the start of the year.

19.9 Historical Performance

1. Module Title	Historical Performance
2. HE Level	7
3. Credit Value	10 or 20; Vocal 10
4. SITS Module Code	ELE4070 ELE4071
5. Location of Delivery	Guildhall School
6a. Module Type	Taught
6b. Applicable in the year of study	Year 1
7. Module Leader	Head of Historical Performance
8. Department	Historical Performance

9. Aims of the Module

The Historical Performance (HP) elective introduces students to the practices of historical instruments; it also allows students who have begun to explore historical instruments to develop their skills as performers in this field.

The elective is also open to vocal students.

Lessons emphasise the innate qualities of historical instruments, how they interact with our musicianship, and what they can bring to our performance on both historical and modern instruments.

Ensemble work introduces the importance to an understanding of text to all performers, and the different relationships between the instruments of historical ensembles.

Vocal (10 credits only)

Vocal students who wish to explore historical performance are able to gain credit through participation and performance in HP department projects. These are typically Consort, Baroque Opera Scenes, and the Cantata Project. Availability may be subject to timetable constraints.

Teaching & Assessment Methodology

Method of teaching and delivery:

Entry to the elective is by audition on either historical or modern instruments; if auditioning on modern instruments, the expectation is that the student will commence study on the historical instrument. A student who has previously studied historical instruments as part of their Guildhall School BMus degree may use the result of their HP exam in lieu of an audition.

The School has a number of historical instruments available for loan; however, a School instrument cannot be guaranteed.

Vocal students should initially discuss their participation in the elective with the Heads of Vocal Studies and Historical Performance.

Teaching and Learning Methodology:

Teaching for all Modules is complemented by the Historical Performance Reader, a selection of sources and reflections on the aesthetics and techniques of historical performance, selected by senior members of the department.

10 credits (HP)

Students receive 15 hours of individual and/or group lessons as appropriate to the instrument. Students participate in selected Historical Performance department ensembles and projects for which they are assessed. Students are also welcome to audit relevant Historical Performance principal study classes.

10 credits – Vocal

Students participate in selected Historical Performance department ensembles and projects for which they are assessed. Students are also encouraged to audit relevant Historical Performance principal study classes, notably Gesture & Ornamentation.

20 credits (HP)

Students receive 19 hours of individual and/or group lessons as appropriate to the instrument. Students participate in selected Historical Performance department ensembles and projects for which they are assessed. Students are also welcome to audit relevant Historical Performance principal study classes.

Assessment:

10 and 20 credits

Students are assessed on their participation and performance in a Historical Performance Department project or projects as appropriate to their instrument, typically a week's rehearsal followed by a performance. For some instruments, this assessment may be substituted by a 15 minute recital or continuo exam. [Assessment criteria: Process]

20 credits

In addition to project participation, students should also present a recital containing a maximum of 30 minutes of music. This may include ensemble work that suitably showcases the idioms of the instrument. Instruments whose solo repertoire is by nature limited are actively encouraged to present ensemble works. [Assessment criteria: Performance]

19.10 Interpretation through Improvisation

1. Module Title	Interpretation through Improvisation
2. HE Level	7
3. Credit Value	20
4. SITS Module Code	ELE4017
5. Location of Delivery	Guildhall School

6b. Applicable in the year of study	Year 1
7. Module Leader	Head of Centre for Classical Improvisation and Creative Performance
8. Department	Centre for Classical Improvisation and Creative Performance

9. Aims of the Module

The work is practical and normally covers areas such as improvised dialogues and counterpoints against an unprepared harmonic background, later developed to small ensemble improvisations in forms such as ABA, rondo and sonata. It covers also improvised dance forms in baroque and classical styles and, where appropriate, elaborating fermata points, repeats, eingänge, cadenzas, preludes and interludes. It also develops structural reductions for solo and chamber music repertoire in real time, elaborating these in more than one way; using these tools for 'hearing forward', enhanced listening, and learning by heart.

This module aims to:

- Introduce the students to the art of extemporisation in general (independent of repertoire-related constraints) and in particular to stylistic improvisations (baroque, classical, romantic and post-romantic styles). Elements covered include embellishments, fermata points, eingänge, preludes and interludes, cadenzas, variations and fantasies. Post-tonal styles are also introduced and practiced.
- Develop and refine an improvisational state of mind while practising repertoire by searching for a fusion in real time between structural, harmonic and stylistic awareness and spontaneous gestures of individual expression, while working on solo and chamber music repertoire (as well as extemporising independently of repertoire).

- Develop presence, empathy and active listening between performing partners, as well as the ability to lead and to follow in an ensemble situation.
- Encourage inner listening, and the development of tools for pursuing an individual search for interpretation.

10. Teaching & Assessment Methodology

Method of teaching delivery:

The work proceeds through fortnightly classes for small groups (normally 4 to 5 students per group in order to ensure active participation of every student as well as supporting working ambience). Content is approached as class workshops in which students interact in performance with the tutor and with other students. The teaching/learning process normally includes also analysis of video and audio recordings of lessons. Students are encouraged to have access to some relevant theoretical knowledge and those who express interest in researching relevant elements further are supported in this.

Assessment:

The module is assessed with an exam in lesson format (70%) [Assessment Criteria: Artistic] and a progress report (30%) [Assessment Criteria: Process].

Assessment:

Each module will be assessed both through engagement with the project (40%) [Assessment Criteria: Process], and through the final performance (60%) [Assessment Criteria: Performance]. Students have a free choice of topic within the field of music research, with advice from the tutor. Teaching is through a flexible combination of one-to-one tutorials and group seminars (delivered by the module leader and/or, where appropriate, in collaboration with the doctoral community) tailored to suit the project and research training needs of the student. The majority of time is devoted to individual study, though the tutor will advise students on relevant research events taking place within the School and externally, and how students can develop their own research and professional networks.

Assessment:

For the 20-credit module, the assessment comprises:

- Work in Progress presentation (15 minutes) [Assessment Criteria: Academic].

And either:

- A single research output equivalent to a dissertation of 5400-6600 words. This may include, but not be limited to, a dissertation (presented either as an essay or a comparable multi-modal digital resource), an illustrated lecture, or a portfolio of research/performance artefacts supported by a written exegesis that navigates the evaluation process [Assessment Criteria: Academic].

Or

- Multiple complementary outputs which have an equivalent, total weighting of 5400-6600 words [Assessment Criteria: Academic]. These outputs may occur at different stages of the project.

The method of assessment must be agreed between student and tutor by the Work in Progress Presentation.

For the 40-credit module, assessment comprises:

- Work in Progress presentation (20 minutes) [Assessment Criteria: Academic].

And either:

- A single research output equivalent to a dissertation of 10800-13200 words. This may include, but not be limited to, a dissertation (presented either as an essay or a comparable multi-modal digital resource), an illustrated lecture, or a portfolio of research/performance artefacts supported by a written exegesis that navigates the evaluation process [Assessment Criteria: Academic].

Or

10. Teaching & Assessment Methodology

Method of teaching delivery:

The content is delivered through a combination of collaborative projects, group seminars, practical sessions, 1:1 tutorials, personal practice and research. The student will select from a list of creative, collaborative projects. Students can take the Elective as a 10 credit option (one standard project, approx. 18hrs) or a 20 credit option (two standard projects or one more substantial project, approx. 36hrs).

The exact attendance for seminars/practical sessions will be confirmed at the start of the Elective, but is approx. 7hrs total (10 credits) or 10.5 hrs total (20 credits). The intensive nature of the practical projects mean that students may occasionally need temporary exemption from other aspects of the Programme.

The Elective tutors support the student's choice of project(s), critical enquiry, reflective practice and presentation/written work preparation. The project leaders support the student on the practical work and project evaluation.

Assessment:

19.19 Song Accompaniment A & B (Pianists)

1. Module Title	Song Accompaniment A (pianists) Song Accompaniment B (pianists)
2. HE Level	7
3. Credit Value	Each module 10
4. SITS Module Code	ELE4032 (A) ELE4053 (B)
5. Location of Delivery	Guildhall School
6a. Module Type	Taught
6b. Applicable in the year of study	Year 1
7. Module Leader	Deputy Head of Keyboard Department
8. Department	Keyboard Vocal Studies

9. Aims of the Module

This module aims to:

- Enable the pianist to develop expertise in song accompaniment.
- Give experience in working and performing with a variety of singers and song repertoire.
- Create consciousness of the demands of song accompaniment as distinct from instrumental chamber music.
- Encourage and develop the specific pianistic skills which this field necessitates.
- Develop practical and critical understanding with the cultural background of the central repertoire in this field and the importance of textual awareness.
- Develop the supportive skills and insight crucial in this field.

10. Teaching & Assessment Methodology

Method of teaching delivery:

Most pianists will be allocated to one of the Songs at Six projects run by the Vocal Dept. These will generally have an intensive three-week period leading to an assessed performance, which will qualify as a 10 credit module [Assessment Criteria:

Performance]. Repertoire and singers will be decided in advance of the coaching period and duos will be expected to prepare and rehearse the music before coaching begins.

Those taking a further 10 credits of song accompaniment, or those unable to join one of the Songs at Six projects (for instance repetiteurs, due to their timetable in the Opera Dept.), will be asked to prepare a 20 min programme of song repertoire with a singer or singers of their own choice for 10 credits (or two 20 min assessments for 20 credits) [Assessment Criteria: Performance]. Coaching towards these performances will be available from the Deputy Head of Keyboard Studies and also from an external song specialist. Pianists will be encouraged to work with their singers beyond the precise limitations of this module, taking part in the vocal performance platforms, in song classes, singers' assessments and, where appropriate, in master classes taken by internal or visiting professors.

Assessment:

For the latter assessment, the duo should offer repertoire originally written for voice and piano, as distinct from orchestral transcriptions or works intended for harpsichord. Two printed programmes and a copy of the music must be provided for the assessment panel.

Students may take both modules in one FT year, or module A in PT year 1 and module B in PT year 2.

9. Aims of the Module

This elective module is available to singers only. This module aims to:

- Develop detailed understanding of the distinct technical stylistic demands of vocal repertoire related to singing in various languages
- Encourage and develop the specific vocal and linguistic skills which this field necessitates
- Integrate the wider cultural relevance of core vocal repertoire, enabling the development of critical awareness of text and music in social and historical contexts.
- Encourage the student to gain a body of practical experience in this field through collaboration with fellow students in rehearsal, practice, class and concert activity.

10. Teaching & Assessment Methodology

Method of teaching delivery:

Teaching is in the form of performance projects devised by tutors around themes, social issues, specific composers or writers. In consultation with the Module Leader, students select from a list of projects that changes from year to year and which is designed to offer students a wide variety of repertoire and creative focus. This covers a range of repertoire in different languages, commonly centred on art song but often involving opera, oratorio or non-classical material.

Students who choose to take one module (Module A) for 10 credits will participate in one project; students who choose to take two modules (Modules A & B) for 20 credits participate in two projects. PT students may take both modules in one PT year, or module A in PT year 1, and module B in PT year 2.

Assessment:

Each module is assessed with a performance of repertoire up to 20 minutes in length, assigned by or agreed with the tutor (60%) [Assessment Criteria: Performance] and through a progress report on participation in the sessions (40%) [Assessment Criteria: Process].

Masters level performance assessment criteria are used for the purposes of assessment. Attendance at all sessions allocated to a project is expected and the progress report/grade will reflect the quality and consistency of the student’s contribution in the sessions.

In addition to working with the tutor towards the performance of allocated songs/arias, students are expected to contribute to discussion and analysis, as well as to learn from presentations by the tutor, reading assignments and listening to / critiquing workshop performances by peers.

Pianists are provided for this elective where appropriate, but singers are encouraged to work with their regular piano partners where possible.

Student pianists normally participate in this elective and work with singers as assigned by the project tutor. Where student pianists are not available, pianists will be organized/assigned by the School.

10. Teaching & Assessment Methodology

Voceworks Module A (10 credits)

New song repertoire for voice(s) and piano or instrumental chamber ensemble is produced in collaboration between Guildhall singers, composers and writers from the MA in Opera Making. This is written with the specific acoustic and space of the performance venue in mind and performed at a dedicated Voceworks concert. For composition students, this is assessed as a component of their final portfolio. For singers this is assessed with a performance of up to 20 minutes (60%) [Assessment Criteria: Performance] and continuous assessment of workshop/seminar participation (40%) [Assessment Criteria: Process].

Voceworks Module B (10 credits)

This module explores the wealth of new song repertoire composed in recent decades through special projects designed each year to illuminate particular areas of this repertoire. Appropriate material is selected in consultation with course tutors and coached in a series of group and/or individual workshops, leading to performances of up to 20 minutes of music. The assessment involves the performance (60%) [Assessment Criteria: Performance] and continuous assessment of workshop participation (40%) [Assessment Criteria: Process].

N.B. As numbers are limited for each project, auditions are likely to be required.
